THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

THE INFLUENCE OF THINGS ENGLISH.

THE ENGLISH SOVEREIGN—A TRIPLE WEDDING LARGE, '90; C. H. Bowman, '90; C. H. Smyth, jr., '88. AMERICAN INTEREST IN THE DRAWING-ROOM OF AND MORE TO COME.

Save for the presence of a titled Englishman, and its attendant duties and obligations, not a wave of trouble rolled across the peaceful breast of "Society" last week. The presentations at the Court of St. James's to the Queen, on Wednesday, caused a pleas grable amount of gossip and the friends of those resented rejoiced that nothing happened at Berlin to top the Drawing Room. According to the cabled accounts thereof, the American women were gowns of elegance and value, well adapted to make their native land proud. It really looks, now, as if the Queen's prawing Room would soon become as interesting to New-York society as it is to London. Whether this "The Duke" and the Drawing Room aside, the Four Hundred" and the adjacent Struggling Thousand used themselves in a quiet way during the week, theatre (on cool evenings) and by riding and Central Park is now exceedingly beautiful in fresh leveliness of bud, leaf and blossom, and the drives on pleasant days last week Parties of equestrians sometimes enty in number, dashed through the bridle paths regardless of broken necks if the horses should shy the dark shadows cast by the bridges, or at some dden turn in the road. The long stretch at the was the scene of many an impromptu race. ero was life, too, at all the country clubs, but more in the way of future, than present, enjoyment. The popularity of these rural retreats still grows, especially among people who have no large country places of their own. For purposes of an entertainment, a cottage near an established country club is as much of an advantage to an ambitious couple as a large estate further removed from lemons and like conniences. And if a very gay crowd is to be enter tained, there is really no objection to a house directly on the race course. Much sport of all kinds is anticipated for the summer at Cedarhurst, at the Country ub, at the Meadowbrook Hunt and at Far Rockaway If the present temper of "Society" continues, all the races this spring will be well attended. Considering weather, the amateur athletic games at Cedarhurst resterday excited much interest.

If the superstition against May marriages has any real foundation, the Radford family and its con-nections, of No. 30 West Forty-sixth-st., ought to feel pervous. On Wednesday (it was not a bright tay either) three of the feminine members were married in the evening, one after another, just as fast s the Rev. Dr. MacArthur could turn them off. It as a pretty affair, and by acting in behalf of one ing in bridesmaids and ushers. The first couple was Miss Sarah C. Radford and James H. Doty; second, Miss Mary E. Radford and F. H. Gilbert. These were daughters of the head of the house, Lewis Radford. The third bride was his granddaughter Miss Lilian Westerfield, and the happy man, Joseph F. Talsen. All the brides were white satin. People who have attended Daly's Theatre for years were interested in another marriage on Wednesday (in Chicago), that of Miss Virginia Dreher to G. F. Postlethwaite, of England. Daly's seems to be a good place for an actress to marry from, if Miss Kingdon's [Mrs. George Gould's) experience and Miss Dreher's prove anything. On Wednesday, also, in Elizabeth, K. J., William Travers Jerosne, a son of "Larry, and one of the assistant district-attorneys of this city, married Miss L. T. Howa. It was a quiet marriage at the bride's home.

Other May brides will be Miss Fmilly T. Frith, of No. 47 West Thirty-eighth-st., who will be married to Maurice Montague of No. 40 West Twenty-eighth-st. on the 16th, Wednesday; Miss Janet King who will become the wife of Van Ronsselzer Townsend, the ecremony being celebrated in the chantry of Grace Church; Miss Georgine Dressler to Theodore J. Gels ler, on Wednesday evening at the Church of the Holy

There were two private entertainments of interest (which were more or less public too) last week. One was the production of Mrs. C. A. Doremus's play, "A Fair Bohemian," which was given in the Madiso Square Theatre on Thursday afternoon. Everything passed off well, but there were more amateurs in the audience than on the stage. The other affair was a French reading held at Frederic Coudert's house, No. 180 West Fifty-ninth-st. About 150 persons were present, and besides the reading there was some good music. This was on Menday. The Misses Condert will give a musicale on Thursday evening, May 17.

Among minor entertainments of the week were: A tea by Mrs. Charles Sprague, in the Rensselaer apartment house; a reception, by Mrs. H. H. Butter-worth, No. 38 East Thirty-fifth-st.; a luncheon, by Mrs. Samuel Sloan, No. 7 East Thirty-eighth-st.; a reception by Mrs. Eberhard Faber, No. 150 West Fifty-ninth-st.; a dinner, by Mrs. Robert Hoe, jr., No. 11 East Thirtygland, by Mayor Hewitt; a reception at the Law yers' Club, in the Equitable Building.

FUNNY STORIES TOLD BY A PHONOGRAPH. EDISON'S PERFECTED INSTRUMENT DELIGHTS

Many members and guests of the Electric Club met last night at the club house, No. 17 East Twenty-secondst., to see and test the lately perfected Edison phonograph.

Somer-Alten Thorndige Rice, Markhall P. Wilser, W. B. Schwille, Professor G. W. Flympton, Lieutenant F. P. Toppen, U. S. A., and Charles R. Gilliand, vice-president and general manager of the Phonograph Company, who has greatly assisted Mr. Edison in elaborating the new instrument Mr. Gilliand read a paper exetching the history of the invention, and describing it in its present perfected form. Professor Robert Spice followed in a short talk upon the laws of sound, accompanying it with experiments designed to make clear the principle of the phonograph.

Then a large paper funnel was attached to a phonograph which had received a cornet sole the day before, and the music was clearly heard by all, every trill and note being reproduced with such beautiful fidelity as to evoke hearty applance from the sudience. A dozen instruments were exhibition in different parts of the building, but most face to face, experimenting with a machine. A BIG MEETING FOR IRETAND TO BE HELD.

The Irish Parliamentary Fund Association, the Irish National League, the Home Rule Club, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick the Knights of St. Patrick, and many other Irish organizations were represented last evening at a meeting in the Hoffman House. Besides Eugene Kelly, who presided there were also present John P. Lynch, Bryan G. McSwyny, J. P. Farrell, C. C. Shayne, Commissioner James S. Coleman, Judge Edward Browne, General James R. O'Beirne, John G. Mackille, Huga King, Patrick Gicason, James A. O'Gorman, L. F. Fullam, James Mitchell, A. Doberty, J. P. Dunn and Edward L. Carey. The purpose of the meeting was to make arrangements for holding a big demonstration to be addressed by Sir Thomas Esmonde, M. P., who has been making speeches in behalf of Home Rule for Ireland in this country for several months and is now about to return to his Parliantary duties. When the business had begun Chairman Kelly was surprised to learn that the Municipal Council of the Irish National League had already arranged with Sir Thomas for a meeting in Cooper Union May 25, for Mr. Esmonde, he said, had talked with him about a meeting on May 28, leaving the selection of the hall an open question. A deposit of $37.50 had been paid for Cooper Union. After some discussion Chairman Kelly stated that he him-self would pay that money and $400 besides, the rent of the Academy, where it was finally decided to held the meeting on May 28. Admission will be free. The various littees were then appointed and another meeting ar

SINGING AND PLATING TO PAY A DEBT. Chickering Hall was well filled last night when the Columbia College Giec Club, sided by the Banjo Club, gave its annual benefit concert for the aid of the Athletic, Baseball and Tennis associations and the Boat Club. Columbia's fair admirers as well as her loyal sons were out in full force to grace the occasion; and showed their appreciation of the musical talent of the college by the appreciation of the musical talent of the college by the hearty manner in which they encored the various selections. The Banjo Club is a great addition to the concerts given by the singers. The warbling of Mr. Beautys and the solos of Mr. Rodgers, J. T. Walker, jr., and J. W. Walker received deserved attention. The clubs were composed as follows: First tenor, J. T. Walker, jr., grad: W. A. Douglas, S. of L.; F. R. Kellogg, S. of L.; P. R. Kel R. D. Morse, jr., S. of L.; second tenor, H. T. Shriver,

A GREAT CHANGE IN HIS APPEARANCE-HAGGARD AND PALLID - A BOGUS SCHURZ REVIEW REPUDIATED BY PRINCE BISMARCK

Conyright: 1888: By the New York Associated Press. Berlin, May 12.-The Emperor has again passed a good day. The Dowager Empress Augusta, accompanied by the Grand Duchess of Eaden will at the same time go to Babelsberg so as to remain near the Empreor. The Royal family's dread of a relapse does not lessen.

FATAL NATURE OF THE DISEASE.

The result of to-day's examination of the Emperor's throat discourages every hope of a more than memen-tary recovery. Dr. Mackenzie reports that the local malady is maiding gradual progress. The occophagus is still unaffected. The difficulty in swallowing is slight, but the check placed upon the extension of the disease has been only partially successful.

Every one who sees the Emperor is struck by his wasted appearance. Before the last relapse he did wasted appearance. Before the last relapse he did not look like a sufferor from a mortal eliment. Now he is worn and pallid and the marks of his long illness are on his face and form.

The Empress, after hearing Dr. Mackenzie's report of the examination, paid her promised visit to the new market which is to be opened in the autumn. Mayor Porekenbeek received the Empress and the Princesaes who accompanied her, and they were given a hearty reception by the thousands assembled within the building. Although the Chief of Police and one officer were present, perfect order was maintained and he Imperial family made a tour of the market without hindrance. Many of the marketwomen presented them with nosegays, while others strewed flowers along the paths between the stalls. The Empress told Mayor Forekenbeek that no incident of her solourn in Berlin since her return had been so pleasing.

The truth in official circles, from Prince Bismarck down, continue to take the gravest view of the international situation. The Chancellor's listed efforts have been directed toward bringing England into close relations with the triple alliance. During the visit of the Duke of Rutland to Berlin, the Chancellor so impressed him with the tuminence of a great European conflict that he was led to report to the English count Kalnoky, the Austrian Prince Minister, looking to a conference of the Powers to actile the Bulgarian of a man in the product of the powers to actile the Bulgarian for a man in the product of the powers to actile the Bulgarian for maional defence, which seem here most meagre and insufficient.

The iron-clad resolutions which the Harvard Board of Overseers passed about ten days ago, restricting intercollegiate athletics, came up for discussion at the annual meeting of the Harvard Club last night, and the New-York alumni came out unanimously, not only for retaining the old system of sports, but also in favor of still greater freedom, in abolishing the rule against contests with professionals. About 100 members of the club were present, and the unanimous vote on the resolutions as appended shows clarly the sentiment of the graduates here on the athletic question The paper was drawn up by George Walton Green, who recently visited Cambridge with a petition to the Overseers in favor of practice games with the Boston and other baseball clubs, which the Board, at the last

BUSY DAYS AT NEWPORT.

THE HOTELS OPEN FOR THE SEASON. MOURNING THE DEATH OF MAHLON SANDS-

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NOTES. NEWPORT, R. I., May 12 (Special).—Fugs and light raise have been numerous of late, and these have made New-port unusually attractive. The broad, velvety lawns surrounding the homes of the summer residents never looked more inviting. The sound of the lawn mewers is heard in all directions. Everybody seems to be busy. is heard in all directions. Everybody seems to be dusy. This is the scason of active preparations, and new arrivals are daily chronicled. Cottages are not reuting as rapidly as desired, and it is safe to say that some folks will be obliged either to close their houses during the summer, or move into them by or before the middle of June. A few cottage seekers have been here this week, and these will doubtless be heard from favorably next week. All but one of the hotels—the Ocean House—are open for the season, but thus far their expenses exceed the receipts George H. B. Hill, of New-York, has leased the Swife cottage, on Bellevuo-ave.

OBJECTING TO COMPULSORY MATRIMONY. Philadelphia, May 12 (Special).-Annie Hoeffner, retty sixteen-year-old girl, made complaint to Justice Turner to-day that her father was trying to compe her to marry Frank Seriven, age twenty-nine, "who," she said, "I detest." The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children has the case in charge. The child's father was held to ball.

THE NEW DEPARTURE OF LORENZ REICH.

This gentleman has solved the problem of do happiness by combining the pleasant features of hotel life with the attractions of a kome, and has perfected his new plan in magnificent style, as will be seen by visiting "The Cambridge" on the corner of Fifth-ave. and Thirty-third-st, this city. It is a notel of homes where transient guests are not entertained, and when where transient guests are not entertained, and where meals are served exclusively to the occupants of the house and their friends. There are luxurious apartments for forty families and a perfect dining-room with seating capacity for one hundred people. There is a feeling of comfort and quiet elegance throughout the building without the bustle and sitr of ordinary hotels. Some of the best known people of New-York are now residing in "The Cambridge" and have surrendered their private houses to dwell in this mammoth house where all the conveniences and comforts of this life are to be enjoyed. Mr. Lorent Reich has certainly conferred a lasting favor on his fortunate guests by removing the every-day anneyances incident to housekeeping, and providing a resort which meets all the requirements of the most exacting family man. Mr. Reich has been enabled to improve on the old methods by studying the wants of the public and satisfying the minutest objection. He is the best known importer of Hungarian wines in America, in fact his reputation in this direction is unique, as is evidenced by the thousands of testimonials in his possession. These wines have been praised by Presidents Grant, Garfield and Arthur, by Governors of different States, by professional and literary men, public singers and members of the English Parliament. It is hardly necessary to state that the wine cellar of "The Cambridge" is well stocked with the pepular Hungarian brands, and that the genial proprietor will never let the "fountain run dry,"—Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter. meals are served exclusively to the occupants of the

A TRAIN FIT FOR THE EMPEROR. A TRAIN FIT FOR THE EMPEROR.

Never has the public seen such trains of passenger cars as these used by the "Santa Fe Route" from Chicago, West. Solid vestibule trains, baggage cars, day cosches and Pullmans, electric lights the illuminator, steam from the locomotive the heat, assure absolute safety. Superb dining cars, with imported furnishings, and a tempting bill of fare, the traveller feeds as he "files," so to speak. The genius of the American inventor and the ambition of the Santa Fe system are wenderfully illustrated in these trains. When next you journey West by all means go via the Santa Fe Route from Chicago.

The system of "Limited" trains with no extra charge has deservedly made the Eric Railway the popular line to the West. The peerless "Eric Lim-ited" leaves New-York at 5 p. m. daily, with Full-man's finest buffet sleeping cars to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis.
